“Namibia is the only country with an expanding population of free-roaming lions - the number of free-roaming desert lions has increased five-fold in less than two decades.”

Giraffe Conservation

In light of World Giraffe Day 21 June 2014

Currently, estimates of Giraffe population’s by the GCF have shown a considerable drop in subspecies numbers. Giraffe subspecies population numbers have been estimated at approximately less than 80 000 individuals.

This drop in numbers is proof that giraffes may be in real danger. Efforts are now underway to build up an accurate census on the entire population. Giraffe Conservation Foundation is working closely with the IUCN SSC ASG International Giraffe Working Group.

Certain subspecies of Giraffes are already decreasing in numbers or have unstable populations. Major threats to Giraffe populations include poaching, human population growth, habitat loss, habitat fragmentation, and habitat degradation.

In southern Africa, safe havens for Giraffe populations are found in Etosha N. P. (Namibia), Okavango Delta (Botswana), Hwange N. P. (Zimbabwe) and Kruger N. P. (South Africa).

According to the IUCN endangered species list:
- Endangered: G. c. peralta (West African or Nigerian giraffe)
- Endangered: G. c. rothschildi (Rothschild’s or Baringo giraffe)

EHRA’s Fundraising Challenge Trek

Join EHRA’s Fundraising Challenge Trek
From the 6th - 12th September 2014

Elephant Human Relations Aid reduces conflict between elephants and humans by working on the ground, providing practical and realistic solutions.

This trek takes place as a mere 141km walk through Damaraland, over 7 days. The main aim is to raise funds for EHRA’s conflict prevention programmes. When committing to this challenge, you are helping EHRA to promote a future where elephants can live in harmony with local farmers. Key EHRA staff will also take part in the journey. They will entice you with their intensive 10 years’ experience worth of knowledge and understanding of Namibia’s desert elephants.

How it works
The cost of the trek is £1 500 pounds sterling (or your currency equivalent). The cost includes all transfers, accommodation, food and equipment whilst on the trek. Excluded from the costs are flights, insurance as well as food and accommodation when back in Swakopmund.

To help prepare you for your challenge, a fundraising support guide, sponsor forms as well as fund raising ideas will accompany a pack full of ideas, a kit list and training advice that will be sent to you once you have signed up.

Itinerary
The route starts near Ugab Wilderness Camp at the foothills of the Brandberg and leads in a north-westerly direction into the sand dunes, and further towards the Doros Crater. From there the trek then swings west to Klein Gai-Ais, from where it turns south to end at the Ugab River. Total distance is measured 141 kilometers. There is the opportunity to join an EHRA patrol at the end of the trek or we can help you plan an adventure to explore the rest of Namibia. We gratefully acknowledge the support of our corporate members, which allows us to pursue our mission to conserve the natural environment of Namibia and to promote appropriate protection, wise and sustainable use of natural resources and sustainable development.
